

THE CENTRAL RECORD.

THIRTY FIRST YEAR

LANCASTER, KY., THURSDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 17, 1921.

NUMBER 51.

ORGANIZATION

Of Retail Merchants And Business Men Formed.

Business and professional men of LANCASTER, including retail merchants, bankers, lawyers, doctors and others interested in the betterment of our city, formed an organization at a meeting last Thursday night at the Court House. The name of the organization will be decided on at a called meeting to be held next Monday night, March 21, at eight o'clock in the County Court room. Other matters pertaining to the organization of the greatest importance will be considered. Judge I. L. Walker will make a talk on the benefits to be derived from such an organization.

The meeting was called last Thursday night by A. D. Joseph to hear a talk by George T. Holmes, of Louisville, secretary of the Retailers Association of Kentucky, on present day commercial problems and business conditions.

There were about twenty-five of the representative citizens and business men of Lancaster present. Mr. Holmes said that business conditions throughout the country were rapidly assuming better shape and expressed optimism for the future. He said all indications pointed to a steady recovery of business but said that we could not hope for a return of the boom period that prevailed in 1919 at least for a year or two.

The point was brought out that more than $1,000,000 is now on deposit in the three banks of Lancaster and an additional half million in the other banks of the county as well as a great deal of cash which people carried with them or kept in their own homes.

At the conclusion of this talk a motion was made by J. R. Haselden and seconded by W. A. Farnau that some sort of local organization be formed. The motion was carried after which A. D. Joseph was elected chairman; W. A. Farnau, vice chairman and Paul Elliott, secretary.

It was decided to hold regular monthly meetings on the second Thursday of every month. The next meeting, however, will be a special meeting called for next Monday night at eight o'clock. Every business man of the city is expected to join the organization if he is interested in the improvement of his town. If he is not so interested, according to opinions expressed at the meeting, he should hunt up some other town in which to live where he will have agreeable company in letting the moss grow over his grave.

In order to give an opportunity to those who were prevented from attending the meeting to become charter members of the organization, a special committee was appointed composed of J. F. Holtzclaw, W. R. Hastin and W. H. Mason. This is a live committee, it is felt, and all three men made it known at the meeting last Thursday that they would not accept a single refusal to line up with this progressive movement for the benefit of our city.

SPECIAL AGENTS

Spend Week-end With Local Agent, Miss Syler.

Miss Lulu Logan, District Home Demonstration Agent, from College of Agriculture, Lexington, spent the past week with Miss Joyce Syler, Home Demonstration Agent, visiting the Junior Agricultural Clubs at Huckleys, Paint Lick, Manse, Bryansville, Mt. Helron and Buena Vista.

Mr. Chapin, Poultry Specialist, from College of Agriculture, spent Friday with Miss Syler. He talked to the girls and boys of the Lancaster Seventh and Eighth Grades, after which he inspected Mrs. T. D. O'Hearn's flock of Barred Plymouth Rocks, Lexington pike; Mr. H. V. Ramsey's S. C. R. I. Reds, Manse and Mrs. Jas. Burnside's White Plymouth Rocks, Richmond pike. These flocks all met the approval of the College of Agriculture at Lexington.

Notice.

All Ex-SERVICE men of Garrard County are asked and urged to be present at a call meeting of the AMERICAN LEGION, SUNDAY AFTERNOON at 2 P. M. at the I. O. O. F. Hall in Lancaster.

Please use every effort to be present.

HISTORIC TREE

Found In Yard Of Lancaster Resident.

Ginkgo Tree Presented To Dr. O. P. Hill By Henry Clay Is One Of Three Brought To This Country By Japan Ambassador

Few of our citizens are aware that we have in our city a rare and historic tree. About 1850 Henry Clay brought from Washington to his home in Lexington three Ginkgo trees probably given to him by the Ambassador from Japan. He presented them to three friends. Several articles in newspapers and booklets have appeared within the past ten years in which it has been stated that two of the three have been located one in Frankfort and one in Louisville, and wondering what had become of the third. It happens that the third has been found in Lancaster and stands in the Dr. O. P. Hill yard on Lexington street, now owned by J. R. Haselden.

A communication from Mrs. Charles Walter, the only child of the late Dr. Hill, states that she had heard her father mention many times the history of the Ginkgo tree in his yard. While attending a lecture at the Transylvania Medical College at Lexington he became acquainted with Mr. Clay whom he admired very much. Clay gave him the tree which the Doctor planted with his own hands in his front yard.

This tree is now 4 1/2 feet high, and has a circumference of 6 1/2 inches, 18 inches above ground. Had this not been shaded by the adjacent pines it would probably have been considerably larger. The body and bark have the characteristic appearance of the pine. The leaves are fan shaped and ribbed and have a peculiar green color. Hillemeier says it is allied to the pine family and on close examination "you will note the absorbed pine needles bound together in a solid leaf. It is of Asiatic origin and carries with it the indescribable oriental appearance in the branches and leaves, character of growth and color of bark."

This quaint tree is the sacred tree of Japan and every temple has one or more adjacent.

The Ginkgo trees in Frankfort and Louisville bear berries that resemble red cherries from which the tree propagates, but the one in Lancaster has never borne fruit, undoubtedly because it is of the male variety.

This is not the only rare and interesting tree in our city. The late W. H. Kinnaird, who was a lover of trees, had a "Yellow Wood Tree" (Viburnum Luteum) in his front yard on Danville Street, which is still standing and bears a profusion of beautiful yellow blossoms. In a letter written twenty years ago by Owen Wistar in reply to an inquiry, stated that he had heard of only a few of the trees of this class in the United States; there being a few on Kentucky River, two in Tennessee and three in Pennsylvania, one of which was in his yard on Chestnut Street in Philadelphia.

The Kinnaird tree came from Kentucky river cliffs. Dr. Hill and Allan A. Burton each had one from the same source but both trees died. In J. E. Dickerson's yard may be found two young Ginkgo trees that came from Lexington several years ago and are growing slowly.

We hope our citizens may become interested in planting trees to replace the old ones that are being destroyed ruthlessly and which will take a generation to replace. For every tree destroyed two should be planted. In this way our country will be saved from deforestation.

DEADLOCKED

"Non-Partisan" Board Of Education Disagree.

The "Non-Partisan" Board of Education have met on two different occasions and each time have failed to agree on the successor to Mr. John Wynn, who died a few weeks ago, and who was one of the members elected at the November election last fall.

Two of the members think, and have the support of a number of their friends, that Mr. Wynn's widow should be tendered the place, but the other two members think differently, and are supporting the candidacy of Mr. Noah Marzee, Jr., of Bryanville. From what can be gathered from outside sources, the split is not really over the successor of Mr. Wynn, but as his successor will in all probability cast the vote that will name the next County Superintendent, it is this juicy plum that has split the four present members of the board. It is understood that the two members who are supporting Mr. Marzee's candidacy, favor the appointment of Prof. James Abner, of Buena Vista, for the superintendency, while the other two are said to favor Mr. Mack Morgan, Garrard county's representative.

In the meantime Miss Jennie Higgins, who has made an ideal superintendent, is still holding down the job, and will until next January or until her successor is appointed. The appointment of Miss Higgins, would be a very happy solution of the whole affair, and we can't see why this "non-partisan" board don't appoint her.

People Should Draft Him.

With the recent action of the democrats of Garrard county in endorsing Hon. J. A. Hardin for reelection as Judge of this Judicial District the Interior Journal is in full accord. While Judge Hardin has not announced his intention of becoming a candidate for reelection we feel that we can safely say that the great majority of Lincoln county people, regardless of age, sex, color or previous condition of servitude, earnestly desire that he shall do so. No one has a stronger hold on the people of Lincoln county than Judge Hardin and he well merits this esteem for he has been weighed in balance and not found wanting in any of the elements that make a model judge and a high-class gentleman. His record as a judge ranks with the best in the state, judging by the number of his decisions that are affirmed by the Court of Appeals, and he is entitled to an endorsement not only on account of his uniform courtesy and kindness to all who go before his court whether as litigant or attorney. If Judge Hardin does not announce for reelection, the people should draft him.—Interior Journal.

Circuit Court Convened Last Monday.

Judge Hardin lost very little time in convening the March term of the Garrard Circuit Court last Monday, which seems to be a dull one with a light docket before it. Both grand jury and petit jury were easily secured and thirty minutes after the court convened the docket was being called and cases set for trial. Circuit clerk James Wood, takes to his job like a duck to water and with the kind assistance of M. C. Newlund, Lincoln's capable clerk last Monday his work started off smoothly.

The grand jury had hardly been in session an hour, before it ordered sheriff Walker to summon before it about 700 delinquent dog owners, who have failed to pay the taxes required by law. They are ordered to appear next Monday at which time it will re-convene.

The following is the make up of the two juries:

Grand Jury
J. M. Hill, Zack Hester, I. M. McQuerry, W. T. Doolin, Leslie Sebastian, Hogan Ballard, foreman, Charlie Ballew, A. McKnight, Thomas King, W. M. Humphrey, R. L. Barker and Jack Adams.

Petit Jury
Virgil Conn, Curtia Fothergill, J. B. Conn, M. H. Walker, W. M. Ledford, Ben Wood, Dave Rankin, Sr., George D. Robinson, Martin Broglio, G. T. Brown, S. H. Estes, George H. Todd, H. G. King, W. M. Jennings, Robert Palmer, Sam Speake, R. L. Rose, Frank Estes, D. S. Swope, Henry Arnold, S. L. Baird, W. T. Sutton, Henry Tankersley, A. J. Rice.

HUGHES

Captures "Wounded" Whale.

Action Causes "Drastic" Resolution By Rockcastle Fishing Club.

Press dispatches from Ft. Meyers, Fla., gives the following account of the exploits of Sautley Hughes, of this place who with his family have been wintering at this famous Southern resort:

"Lee Mason, of Maywood, Ky., and F. S. Hughes, of Lancaster, Ky., winter residents here, capped the climax of a winter-long series of unusual fishing adventures and feats by 'finding' a whale and having the mammal towed ashore.

"The two Kentuckians, fishing in lower San Carlos bay, sighted the whale which had lost its way and was aground in the shallows and sand bars about a mile off Sanibel Island lighthouse. A deep gash in the whale's back and side indicated that it had been in a collision with a vessel. It was in its death throes when sighted.

All the efforts of a powerfully engaged fishing boat were unavailing to drag the whale to the shallows, and finally Mason and Hughes called one of the deep sea fishing boats of the Ocean Leather Company, which has a plant on Sanibel Island. The big boat pulled the whale into deep water and it was towed to the plant.

By careful measurement the whale was found to be thirty-eight feet and eight inches long. At first it was believed to be a giant backfish, but experts of the Ocean Leather Company showed it to be a real whale.

The above dispatch was brought to the notice of the Rockcastle Fishing Club, of which Mr. Hughes is rather a member. The conduct of this Kentucky fisherman in taking advantage of a "wounded" whale and one that was so helpless as to wash ashore, was severely criticised by the members of the club, which resulted in "drastic" action being taken by the club at a meeting of its entire membership Tuesday morning.

The result of this meeting was the unanimous expulsion of Mr. Hughes from the club, with a heavy penalty attached, if he ever attempted to detail the account of the capture, to any of the club members.

Mr. Hughes was notified of his "expulsion" in the following telegram sent him Tuesday evening:

Lancaster, Ky.
March 15th, 1921.

F. S. Hughes

"At a full meeting of the Rockcastle Fishing Club, held this day, you were expelled for conduct unbecoming a Kentucky fisherman, according to the press dispatches, in taking a thirty-eight foot wounded whale, that had previously washed ashore. Above action ordered printed in Central Record."

EXAMINATION

HELD

Three Take Tax Test.

Messrs. D. C. Sanders, A. T. Scott and W. A. Doty, took the examination for Tax Commissioner, before County Attorney G. C. Walker last Monday.

Messrs. Sanders and Scott are announced candidates for the democratic and republican nomination, subject to the action of the August primary.

No person can be elected County Tax Commissioner without taking this examination, as required by law. He must be up on the following subjects: Experience as an assessor, revenue laws of the state, geography of the county, elementary training and business experience. He must make a grade of 75 per cent.

New Elevator.

Mr. J. F. Holtzclaw is having erected this week, a modern elevator in his furniture store, which will prove quite convenient in handling his large stock.

The Woman's Club met Thursday afternoon at the rooms on Lexington avenue. Mrs. R. E. McRoberts called the house to order and after the business session, Mrs. W. B. Burton had charge of the program. Hon. Green Clay Walker gave a talk on the county and city government. About fourteen members were present.

HERO'S BODY

To Be Returned To Paint Lick.

A telegram to his father, Mr. James A. Calico, announced that the body of Jesse Calico, would arrive in New York on March 18th, and would be forwarded to Paint Lick, arriving there about the 22nd, which will be next Tuesday.

Jesse Calico was one of the first boys to enlist from Garrard county and was among the first ones to lose his life on the field of battle. He arose to the rank of corporal and was killed in the attack on the Hindenburg line, September 29th, 1918.

Arrangements are being made by the local Legion boys, for the Helial Sanford Post to attend the burial services in a body and assist at these last sad rites.

Legality Of The Office

Of County Oil Inspector Is Questioned By Suit.

The richest office in Jefferson county, that of Oil Inspector, has been placed in jeopardy by a suit filed in Federal Court attacking the constitutionality of the act creating the office of county oil inspector. The suit was brought against John T. King, County Attorney of Trigg county, and Denny P. Smith, Commonwealth's Attorney for the Third Judicial district, by the Evansville Oil Company and seeks to enjoin the officers from bringing more suits against the oil company for shipping oil into the State without having it inspected. The officers had brought 103 suits against the company and were preparing 500 more when Judge Evans granted a temporary injunction preventing such action. It involves all oil inspectorships.

Three clauses in the Constitution of the United States are invoked by the oil company and three Federal judges will be required to sit on the case. Judge Evans has set March 17 as the day for a hearing on the question of granting a permanent injunction.

The petition charges that "the said act is not an act for the safety of the people of the State of Kentucky, but is in truth an act to raise revenue for the benefit of the oil inspectors of the various counties of the State."

The act provides for a fee of 10 cents a barrel for inspecting oil and according to the petition "the revenue derived under such conditions and retained by the inspectors is as high as $20,000 a year and greatly exceeds the cost of the inspection."

The office in Jefferson county has been estimated at yielding net about $12,000 a year. The position is now held by Roscoe Searcy, brother of Chesley Searcy.

Successful Sale.

The sale of Hampshire hogs, conducted by Messrs. Haselden and Aldridge, at their Crescent Hill farm last Saturday was a decided success. About fifty head were sold, the bred sows and gilts averaging about $46 a head.

These gentlemen are arranging to make this an annual affair, letting owners of other pure bred stock, combine with them, thus making perpetual a sale that will mean lots to the breeders of Garrard and adjoining counties. It has been proven beyond the shadow of a doubt that it pays to standardize your stock, using only the pure bred, let it be chickens, hogs, cattle or sheep.

UNITY IS AIM OF

WEED GROWERS. Seek Way To Hold The Crop.

Plans for an important meeting of leaders in the tobacco and farming industry of the State and nation through which it is hoped a solution for the State's tobacco market problems will be found, are being made by the Executive Committee of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation in co-operation with all other farming organizations in the State, it was announced recently.

The meeting, which was suggested at a recent executive session of the federation by E. H. Woods, Pageville, president, will be held in the auditorium of The Seebach at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, March 29.

Among the important steps that will be considered with a view to working out a definite plan for the growers and others in the marketing and handling of tobacco crops, are the formation of an organization to receive, handle and sell the weed, adoption of a system of United States tobacco bonded warehouse and a movement to get the United States Department of Agriculture to establish grades for the commodity.

Although various leaders in the industry have given aid to tobacco men in meeting their problems, those in charge of arrangements for the meeting hope the outgrowth of the conference will be a sound plan through which action can be gotten within a short time.

If grading the crops is decided on, it is pointed out that a farmer, not satisfied with the price offered for his crop will be able to store it in one of the warehouses and raise cash on its value pending final disposition.

In addition to representatives of various farming organizations among them John W. Newman, Versailles, president of the Kentucky Burley Growers' Association; Felix G. Ewing, Clarksville, Tenn., president of the Planters and Growers' Protective Association and Louis Hancock, Dixon, Ky., many agricultural and tobacco men of the State are expected to attend the meeting. W. C. Hanna, Commissioner of Agriculture; W. T. Fowler, Assistant Attorney General of Kentucky; representatives of the Kentucky State College of Agriculture and of the United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Markets, will take part.

C. A. Gustafson, Meade, Neb., head of the co-operative marketing department of the American Farm Bureau Federation, president of the Nebraska Farmers' Union and the Farmers Grain Marketing Committee of Seventeen, will be one of the principal speakers. He also will attend the State convention of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, which will be held during the two days following this meeting.

While no definite plans have been decided on for the proposed meeting, James R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which represents a membership of 1,500,000 in forty-six States, will be among those delivering addresses.

Geoffrey Morgan, secretary of the Kentucky federation, who is in charge of plans, will confer with Judge Robert W. Bingham to discuss plans for the meeting and to get him to make the address of welcome.

Judge Bingham arranged a conference recently with Bernard M. Baruch, former chairman of the War Industries Board, for the tobacco growers and warehousemen through which beneficial information and counsel were obtained.

Business Change.

For the past 33 years, Mr. W. O. Rigney has been one of the foremost funeral directors of Garrard county and we might say, second to none in the State; and after so many years of hard and efficient work, he has felt that new young blood should be injected into his business and as a result of this conclusion, has taken in as a partner, his son-in-law, Mr. W. H. Dickerson, who has faithfully, conscientiously and satisfactorily assisted him for the past three years, and today is considered quite as good as the senior partner.

Mr. Dickerson will be thoroughly endowed with a certificate as an embalmer and will then be able to lift the heavy and important work from the shoulders of Mr. Rigney, who deserves a well earned rest. The new firm will be known as W. O. Rigney and Company.

Kentucky Farm Notes From Here And There

The farm at Camp Knox near Louisville, has purchased 15 registered Holsteins and one pure-bred sire, according to a report of E. M. Prewitt, of the Dairy Department of Kentucky State College of Agriculture.

A number of farmers in Jefferson county have pooled their orders for a car load of certified Irish potatoes to be purchased in Minnesota, according to County Agent F. E. Merriman.

Powell county farmers are showing increased interest in poultry raising, according to reports coming from the office of H. H. Harrison, county agent. A number of new poultry houses are being built while several farmers have agreed to keep records on their flocks.

More than 100 Knox county farmers recently attended a meeting in that county for the purpose of discussing poultry standardization work, according to County Agent Earl Mayhew.

County Agent D. W. Martin of Henderson county reports that more than 100 settings of pure-bred eggs were recently purchased by different farmers in that county.

More than 25 farmers in Oldham county have contracted for 100 pure-bred hatching eggs apiece and planned to raise White Plymouth Rocks exclusively, according to Gordon B. Nance, county agent.

A total of more than 150 Ballard county farmers and their wives recently attended a three-day farm and home school conducted by County Farm Agent E. A. Whalin and Miss Lucy Belle Settle, home demonstration agent. Subjects relating to orchards, gardens, food, clothing and farm management were discussed by specialists from the State College of Agriculture.

FRESH ORANGE JUICE IS MOST EXCELLENT FOR ALL CHILDREN

Give the Kiddies Plenty of Real Orange Juice.

"Why should I buy oranges and press out the juice for the baby when I can buy it already made?" said Mrs. Housekeeper, holding up a bottle containing a yellow beverage with a fanciful name and the picture of a delicious, yellow orange on the label. "This saves lots of work and is cheaper. Besides, the baby likes it real well."

"But this is not orange juice; it is only an imitation," said the food specialist, carefully examining the fancy label. "You said that your physician told you to give the baby orange juice. No physician would ever prescribe this concoction. Forget the picture of an orange and read the fine print on the label. In that the manufacturer pretends to comply with the provisions of the food and drug act by partly correcting some of the misleading features of the label. You notice that he does not call it orange juice anywhere, but creates the impression that it is by the picture of an orange, and the use of a fanciful name which suggests orange fruit. The color of the orange is obtained by the use of an artificial dye. The only part of the orange in this stuff is perhaps a minute quantity of oil pressed from orange skin, or extracts from the dried peel, which carries the aroma and flavor of orange."

Not Getting Orange Juice.

"You mean to say my baby has not been getting any orange juice?" The doctor said he needed it more than anything. No wonder he stayed sick.

"The only orange your baby gets from this bottle is the smell," replied the food specialist. "Your physician prescribed orange juice for the baby because it contains certain organic acids which have medicinal value and also contains vitamins which are essential to growth. Your physician prescribed orange juice because the vitamins are lacking in sufficient quantity in pasteurized milk. But this concoction is essentially a sweetened, artificially carbonated water flavored with a little oil from the peel of the orange and colored to imitate orange juice. It contains none of the medicinal qualities or vitamins of orange juice."

This incident, which might occur in any city of the United States, emphasizes the warning recently issued by the officials of the bureau of chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, to read carefully all labels on food and drug packages.

National prohibition has resulted in the market being flooded with soft drinks, some of which are imitations of various fruit juices and sold under fanciful names in order to evade, if possible, the necessity of stating on the label what the product really is. Because of the deceptive nature of the label on some of these products, the officials in charge of the enforcement of the federal food and drug act have instituted proceedings to require correct labeling. In the meantime, pending judicial decisions as to what is correct labeling of these products under the law, some manufacturers are continuing to put their deceptively labeled products on the market.

Read Labels Carefully.

While the labels referred to are grossly misleading on a casual reading such as is given by the average housewife, they usually do contain statements in a more or less inconspicuous way which will reveal to the careful, critical reader the fact that the product is not what it purports to be. These inconspicuous statements are usually placed on the labels for the purpose of evading the penalties for misbranding. The manufacturer hopes to mislead the purchasers by suggestive statements and pictures played up prominently on the label so as to attract instant attention, and escape the charge of misbranding by correcting the misleading features with inconspicuous statements in another part of the label which the average purchaser does not read.

The officials have ruled that the terms "mix," "squash," "punch," "crush," and "smash," when used in conjunction with the name of a fruit can be applied correctly only to beverages which contain the edible portion of the fruit or juice of the fruit named. Such terms should not be applied to products flavored only with essential oils or essence.

Some few products on the market are composed in whole or in part of fruit juice, and it is in order that purchasers may distinguish between these genuine products and the imitations that the officials insist upon correct labeling.

Action Will Be Instituted.

Action will be instituted under the federal food and drug act in all cases found to be in violation of its terms, say the officials. In the meantime, consumers who want real fruit juices should read very carefully the label of preparations purporting to be such.

It is not claimed that these artificial preparations as a rule contain ingredients injurious to the health of adults. There is no objection to their sale under proper labels. However, they are in no sense substitutes for genuine fruit juices in that they lack the medicinal qualities characteristic of fruit juices. In no case, say the officials, should these artificial preparations be substituted for orange juice in feeding children. They do not have the valuable antiscorbutic properties and the health-giving vitamins, which are found in the delicious juice of the orange. The best way to get orange juice for children is to buy the fruit and press out the juice.

THEORETICAL AMOUNT OF "A TEASPOONFUL"

Correct Quantity Is Placed at 5 Cubic Centimeters.

Housekeeper Measuring With a Teaspoon Should Fill It "Level," Not "Heaping," Says Office of Home Economics.

Five cubic centimeters is what the bureau of standards has set as the theoretical quantity a teaspoon holds, but all spoons do not conform to this. The housekeeper measures with a teaspoon and should fill it "level," not "heaping." How many teaspoonfuls does a pound of baking powder contain? Apparently the number depends on yourself, upon the spoon used, upon the brand of baking powder you buy, upon the can in the lot which you happen to get, and upon a few other factors, which, though seemingly inconsequential, do enter into the problem.

A pound of baking powder lasts longer with some cooks than it does with others. In an endeavor to learn where the difference is made the experimental kitchen in the office of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture recently conducted a series of experiments.

Various types of cooking teaspoons were first experimented with to determine the exact amount held in each case. Both the ordinary teaspoon and those "measuring spoons" which are linked together in sets were tested. A variation of from 120 to 150 teaspoonfuls was found in the same pound can when different teaspoons were used.

The personal equation also enters into the amount which is called a teaspoonful. It was found the differences due to individual manipulation ranged from 10 per cent to 30 per cent, a wider range of variation than those due to the different capacities of different teaspoons.

Garden Will Help To Solve Problem Of Farm Wages.

Land owners can do much toward assisting in the readjustment in farm wages which promises to come this year by encouraging hired men on their farms to plant and cultivate a garden this spring according to Prof. W. D. Nicholas, head of the farm management department of the Kentucky State College of Agriculture. Such a garden should be planned to supply an abundance of vegetables and potatoes not only for summer but also for winter use.

According to Prof. Nicholas, farm wages have not yet declined as much as the price of farm products but when the drop does come it will be greatly offset if the hired man has a garden from which he can obtain many of the necessary vegetables.

It is equally important that the farmer make plans to insure a garden for himself and his family during the present temporary period of depression. In spite of the fact that he may have less money the farmer will still have many comforts that need not be purchased if he has a good garden.

RENEWED TESTIMONY

No one in Lancaster who suffers backache, headaches, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Lancaster man's two-fold story. It is confirmed testimony that no Lancaster resident can doubt.

W. C. Davis, tailor, Danville Pike, Lancaster, says: "Some time ago my kidneys were in a bad condition I suffered with pains across my back and through my loins. My kidneys were irregular in action and I had to get up many times at night to pass the secretions. I had considerable stooping over to do and I became greatly tired and languid. Doan's Kidney Pills from McRobert's Drug Store brought relief and I think they are a fine kidney medicine."

AGAIN PRAISES DOAN'S

Over four years later Mr. Davis said: "I am always glad to say a good word for Doan's. When I have symptoms of kidney trouble Doan's are sure to give me relief."

Nelson County Boys And Girls To Prac- tice Dairying.

Twelve Nelson county boys and girls interested in dairying have organized a dairy club club purchased their calves and started what they intend to make a foundation herd of dairy cattle according to the dairy department of the Kentucky State College of Agriculture. An average price of $160 per head was paid for the bred heifers which the youngsters purchased. A local bank is financing them in their new project.

Sudan Grass Makes Good Farm Pasture.

Sudan grass which can be planted in the late spring will make an excellent pasture for Kentucky farms, according to recommendations of the Soils and Crops Department of the Kentucky State College of Agriculture.

Experiments conducted by the department have shown that this crop gives a heavy yield of green grass at a time during July and August when pastures are usually short. Four or five acres on the small farm will make pasture for the family milk cows together with the pigs and also the work horses at night. According to the department, it is the quickest growing and most productive of all annual crops that can be grown in Kentucky. This holds true for all soil types in the State.

A circular and further information on the crop may be obtained by writing the soils and crops department of the State College of Agriculture, Lexington, Ky.

Ohio County Farmers To Keep Milk Records

In cooperation with the dairy department of the Kentucky State College of Agriculture ten Ohio county farmers have agreed to keep daily milk records on their dairy cows, to weight, their milk and feed a balanced ration to their cows, according to E. M. Prewitt, a member of the department.

YOU WANT OUR MONEY We Want Your Produce

An even exchange is good for both of us, but we will make it a little better for you by paying you the HIGHEST market price for your produce of all kinds.

Why ship it away yourself and take what you can get for it when you can better afford to sell to us and get good prices and quick money?

We buy for cash everything that the farmer raises in the way of produce, poultry, eggs, etc.

ENCHANTING MILLINERY

Wherever fashionables congregate on an afternoon or evening in the coming summer, our eyes are destined to feast upon such enchanting millinery as that shown above. In this group of four hats both France and America are represented by models that vie with one another. The topmost hat, from Paris, is made of a fabric having black cellophane figures on a henna-colored silk background. Another French hat approves this long draping at the side, as shown in the round hat of navy blue crepe with band of pink enameled roses. Navy blue was chosen, having black cellophane decoration, for its handsome rival with black lace veiling the eyes and America further distinguishes itself in the all-black satin hat with cellophane trimming and long lace veil that flushes the picture.

A RISK ROMANCE

By MINNIE M. TOWNSEND.

Copyright, 1920, by Minnie M. Townsend. All rights reserved.

Betty Simms of a big western insurance company opened one of her large city maps, turned the much pocketed pages until she came to the particular streets designated on the application which she held in her hand and ran a finger down the street to the little square house which bore the correct number. She carefully studied the surroundings and then shook her head.

"We'll have to have this application cancelled, Mr. Phelps," a tall young man came at her call and glanced at the tell-tale map. "You see," she continued in explanation, "it's nothing but an old shack, surrounded on all sides by dilapidated buildings. On this side is a laundry and on the other another one-story wooden shack. The whole street is one big fire trap."

"But they only want $300 on house-hold furniture, Betty."

Miss Simms resented such easy use of her given name and plainly showed it. "I know, but if ever a good fire got started in that neighborhood there wouldn't be a house left. I'm quite sure the furniture which you recommend insuring would not remain suspended in the air."

Despite the sarcasm the young man was unmoved.

"I grant you that, but—" he leaned closer and to all intent was engaged in a strictly business conversation—"but, Betty dear, have you no heart?"

Betty glanced at him. "What are you driving at? This is a poor business risk, a very bad fire hazard, and probably a poor moral hazard as well. Folks who live in such places may not be overparticular about setting a fire. Please have it ordered cancelled."

"As I was saying, Betty," he continued easily, "this poor couple have begun a home, all secure in their family happiness, and then you, a girl without a heart, refuse to issue their policy when they try to insure the material part of their happiness. Confidence is smashed, they begin to think about the poor outside of their home, the rickety old fireproofed shack. They go to sleep dreading that elixir of life, afraid the house will burn around them while they slumber. The noise of the laundry becomes prophetic; the kid next door with a fire cracker sets their nerves jangling. Peace is gone and all because a certain girl hearted—"

"That will do, Mr. Phelps. This is a business office. I try to be a business woman, but you have utterly failed to be a business man. Perhaps if you had—" She hurried away leaving a much disconcerted person leaning over the map counter.

The much abused $300 policy was cancelled in due season. Days passed as they do in all insurance offices. Betty retained a cold silence, even ignoring Jimmy's wistful attempts to appear contrite. And then, one day, after the company had sustained a big loss, he came over to Betty's corner, his face aglow, all differences forgotten.

"I've got my chance, Betty," he said eagerly. "I asked for it and I'm going to do insuring, starting this afternoon with that big loss at W—."

Use imagined that you were hard-hearted, Betty, but perhaps if I try to become a business man, perhaps—"

But Miss Simms totally ignored the unshelving face above her. "I can't ever forgive you," she announced curtly, hanging away on her noiseless typewriter in an effort to create noise.

She thought, with remorse, of her words late that afternoon when there came rumors that the shaky walls of the W—rums had collapsed, injuring several. The company could not get in touch with its agent and Betty went home without her usual appetite for supper. She tried to eat and at last, after several attempts, gave it up and a little shamefacedly went to the telephone.

The voice at the other end of the telephone seemed coolly impersonal. "Yes, he has been hurt badly, though not seriously."

"Could she come over?" There was a moment of silence and then:

"I'm sorry, but he thinks you are probably not really interested and it would only be an unnecessary bother."

"I'll be right over," said Miss Betty Simms, shortly.

Jimmy's white face grinned above the coverlet. "Tried to be a business man, but, 'twas knocked on the head first time, by a brick, at that. Guess I can't be nothing but a 'sob sister' clerk."

Betty slipped a hand over his one unbandaged one. "Jim," she said softly, "it was meant of me to call you that. If you'll just try to get strong soon again, I'll—we'll make a business man of you—together."

"Why?" he queried faintly, and as she nodded, he shook his head. "No, it was selfish even to think of such a thing, Betty."

"It wasn't. If you have withdrawn the dozen proposals, Jimmy Phelps, I'll take a leap year's opportunity. We can start with $300 worth of dollar-down furniture. In a humble shack, anywhere."

"And supposing the furniture people come for our stuff when we can't pay, or—the insurance company refuses our policy, thereby destroying our peace of mind, what then, Betty?" he asked, mischievously.

"It won't happen, and if it should we'll still have each other."

"Bless that $300 canceled policy," said Jimmy fervently, forgetting his hurt hand as he drew hers to his cheek.

Ancient London Markets.

London's oldest markets are said to be Smithfield, where cattle were sold in 1150, and Billingsgate, which is reported to have been founded in 600 B. C.

Origin of Boston's Tremont Street. The origin of Boston's Tremont street is said to be a corruption of Trimountain, by which name the town of Boston was first known owing to the presence of three high hills serving as a background to the peninsula.

Cats and Diphtheria.

Cats don't carry diphtheria, declares Doctor Savage, medical officer of health for Somerset county, England. In an address to the Royal Sanitary Institute Doctor Savage stated that, even when cats were closely associated with diphtheria patients, the true diphtheria bacillus could not be found in their throats. He had tried to infect cats with human diphtheria, but had failed.

"BIRD OF PARADISE"

At Lexington Opera House.

Some of the Hawaiian words used in Richard Walton Tully's exotic drama, the "Bird of Paradise," which comes to the Opera house for two nights commencing Friday, Mch. 18, with matinee Saturday and their translations are: "Pou," it is finished; "wike wike," hurry up; "pana hana," work; "aloha," greetings; "nui," love to you; "pilikea," trouble.

The names of five Hawaiian boys who appear in this pretty romance are Kupili, Koa, Polihale, Mokohilani and Kia. One instrument resembling a guitar is known as the ukulele.

The play is beautiful and intensely atmospheric. It shows Hawaii, with its shores girdled by lazy waves on languorous moonlight; Hawaii with its native homes; their side doors open for flame colored flowers and blue sea and sky; Hawaii with its laughing and dancing maidens crowned and garlanded with brilliant flowers, maidens casting eyes of witchery at white strangers. "The Bird of Paradise" is geography made easy and poetry realized in the every day.

Against this background of unique beauty is lived rather than acted, a powerful story of two women and two men upon the lives of the men who love them. One, with the sensuous charm of the young Kinnaka, vows that she will love her husband and keep him "by the charm of lips and arms." The other, a snow maiden says: "I will keep him and hold him by the power of the mind."

The girls live and love and pay the price of love and love. Then each seek each other and say: "I was wrong. My way has failed. Teach me your way to win and keep a man's love."

Every woman knows, and every honest woman will admit, that this is the knowledge she desires beyond all earthly things. She will learn it if she sees "The Bird of Paradise." Richard Walton Tully, under whose direction the production is offered, has assembled a lengthy cast of capable players, which includes Miss Ann Reader, as Luana, Hawaiian princess; William Macauley, as Dr. Wilson; Ellen Mahar, as Diana; John Gribner, as Hohenau, and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll as the missionaries. One of the interesting spectacles of this compelling performance is the final scene of the play, showing Mt. Kilauea in violent eruption, and Luana's leap to death into this burning crater. —Adv.

American Legion News

What E. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, proclaims will be the greatest national patriotic demonstration held in this country since the signing of the Armistice will be held at Madison Square Garden, in New York, on March 18th. It will be called the "All American Meeting for God and Country" and is designed as the answer of all patriotic citizens to the pro-German Von Mach propaganda meeting held in Madison Square two weeks ago.

A score of organizations are co-operating under the leadership of the Legion, and Colonel Galbraith, who will be the principal speaker, has been deluged by letters and telegrams from veterans public officials and citizens from virtually every state greetings to the meeting, applauding the stand of the Legion in its recent exposure of a revival of German propaganda efforts in America.

From a number of cities where scheduled comes the word that counter demonstrations by patriotic citizens will be organized at the first moment the propagandists come out in the open with their plans. Many of the communications are from citizens of foreign birth, including loyal Americans of German extraction.

Among the organizations co-operating with the Legion in the arrangements for the New York meeting are: United Spanish War Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Military Order of World War, Military Order of Loyal Legion, Roosevelt Memorial Association, American Federation of Labor, U. S. Chamber of Commerce, National League for Women's Service, City Federation of Women's Clubs and Victory Hall Association.

Although he is sixty-four years old, Clay C. MacDonald, a member of the American Legion in St. Joseph, Mo., has been selected as chief of police of that city. MacDonald is a veteran of the World War with a good record and it is believed that his experience and ability will check the results of the national crime wave in the Missouri city.

Members of the American Legion in Alaska prefer a land-rent bonus to a compensation. It was so decided by a large majority in a preference vote taken in every post of Alaska. The plan favored by the Legionnaires provides for the grant to each veteran of one hundred and sixty acres from the unappropriated public lands of the Territory.

More than 24,000 new claims of veterans for compensation and other government assistance had been filed by the middle of February as a result of a service contest among Illinois American Legion posts, which started last Armistice Day under the auspices of a Chicago newspaper and for which prizes were offered. Similar Legion campaigns to obtain just compensation for the disabled are in progress in Montana, North Dakota and many other Legion departments.

From Columbus, Wis., comes a story of how members of Lange-Ostrander Post of the American Legion aided a member of the post when his blacksmith shop was destroyed by fire. Twenty-four hours after the fire, post members met and voted unanimously to help their buddy rebuild the shop. Legion doctors, dentists, lawyers, merchants and trade union members worked for three days, under the direction of carpenter members of the post, and the result was a much better established for the unfortunate ex-service man. During the progress of the work, a local bakery provided the toilers with food.

The click of the bones was heard in the headquarters of the New Orleans American Legion Employment and Service Bureau.

"Up, little Joe; get your papa that job!" The dice rolled noisily on the cement floor.

There are so many more men than jobs that the choice between veterans with similar qualifications had to be entrusted to the ivory cubes, the Legion officials explained.

Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heinke, the opera singer, has arranged to honor Topeka, Kan. members of the American Legion by reserving the stage for them when she sings in that city March 28th. She has also accepted the invitation of Capitol Post No. 1, and its Women's Auxiliary to a reception to be given her at the Legion club rooms following the concert.

A letter of congratulation has been received by E. W. Galbraith, Jr., National Commander of the American Legion, from the French War Veterans Society of America, in reference to the Legion head's determined stand against the efforts of German propagandists to drive a wedge between this country and France. "To a campaign of systematic calumny you made the only kind of reply which it was fitting to make and the 'poilus' approve it and thank you," the letter states. The Indiana state senate passed a resolution commending the Legion's fight against the Boche-campaign.

Thousands of ex-service men of foreign parentage will learn of the activities of the American Legion as a result of the addition of more than one hundred foreign-language newspapers to the mailing lists of the American Legion News Service. The nationalities represented are: French, Italian, Scandinavian, Jewish, Slovak, Russian, Lithuanian, Greek, Polish, Serbian, Siberian, Chinese, Bohemian, Magyar, Finnish, Danish, Ukrainian, Roumanian, Bulgarian and German.

Will Rheumatism Again Bind Your Hand and Foot?

If you had Rheumatism last year and treated only the pains of the disease by rubbing with liniments and lotions, you can be sure that soon again you will be in the shackles of this relentless foe. You may get some slight temporary relief from the pains of the disease by the use of these local remedies, but Rheumatism is too real and relentless a disease to be rubbed away. So many cases of Rheumatism come from a tiny germ in the blood, that you should try a remedy that has proven so thoroughly satisfactory in these cases. S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy cleanses the blood of all impurities, and removes all disease germs that may creep into the blood. Begin taking S.S.S. today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice, without charge. Announcements.

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of E. V. Puryear to succeed himself in the office of Commonwealth's Attorney for this district, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, August 6, 1921.

Some of the practice of our forefathers were commendable and are worthy of emulation in this present age of progress. Others, however, have been shown to be back numbers. They have been supplanted by modern customs which had to be put into use if the world should go forward. It is not our purpose to point out any of those in the first class, but there is one in the second class to which we wish to call attention.

For many years the people of Garrard county as well as all the other counties of Kentucky and all the counties in all of the states of the Union had an idea that they could get bargains from the mail order houses and save money by sending their hard earned coin to the big concerns in Chicago and other far away cities which would never return to the senders or their neighbors. It may have been true when the mail order houses first grew into prominence that they gave real bargains. If this was ever true it was in the times of our grandparents before these houses began to "hog the deal." They built up such an enormous business that they did like many other large concerns and began to be less particular about the quality of their goods, believing that once the business had been built up it would carry itself regardless of quality and feed on the suckers that are born every minute.

Today it is our belief that a comparison of merchandise and prices between the mail order houses and the home merchants will show that our merchants here can give the public just as good merchandise as the big houses many miles away. Not only is this true but the charge of transportation is saved to the customer because it is he that pays for this charge when he buys from the mail order house. The retail merchants of Lancaster have to have their goods brought here, but they are brought in large quantities, which makes a big difference.

Here are some of the reasons why you should patronize the home merchant rather than the mail order house:

When you buy from mail houses, you buy "sight unseen," which, under most circumstances is bad business.

If goods are not satisfactory, it costs more in time and more in money to make the exchange.

If your house burns, do you go to the mail order houses for contributions to rebuild? No, you call on the home merchant and he invariably responds liberally.

Your home merchant pays more than you make by patronizing the mail order houses in taxes to help educate your children.

Mail order houses do not build and maintain good roads, build churches and school houses, and other necessary improvements for your community.

Mail order houses do not furnish a market for your butter, eggs and potatoes.

Suppose that everyone should patronize the mail order houses for all their supplies; the local merchants would have to go out of business. You would have no market for anything produced on the farm and all the advantages and conveniences of a local market would be destroyed.

There is an ethical side to the matter; how do you feel when you have spent your MONEY with the mail order houses and then come to your home merchant and ask him for credit?

Prosperous people patronize home industry.

Give your home merchant the benefit of your CASH and he can, and will, sell you goods for a less profit.

Opportunity Of The Century.

The new congress comes into life facing one of the greatest opportunities of modern times.

Its action will be watched with interest by millions of people.

One of the worst evils which this country is afflicted is the constant and flagrant abuse of board of trade privileges by certain piratical speculators who are enriching themselves at the expense of the producing and consuming public.

Boards of trade may be a modern necessity, but nullifying the law of supply and demand is not necessary and should be prohibited by the iron hand of the government.

A combination of plutocratic speculators can hammer down or boost to the skies the price of wheat, corn or any other commodity at will. They clean up millions on their deals, but these profits are not shared in by either the producer or the consumer.

It is purely a juggling of the markets by individuals who have the power to do so, and solely for their own personal gain.

If we have no law elastic enough to strangle these leeches one should be enacted and rigidly enforced.

If the law supply and demand is allowed to determine the value of stocks and commodities there can be no valid objection to the price they bring, and they will always command what they are worth.

Any price beyond this is robbery of the many for the benefit of a few. And robbery is robbery, no matter in what guise we find it.

No congress as yet has had the courage to meet this supreme issue.

Will the new one go into history as greater than its predecessors, or will it content itself with sidestepping the golden opportunity of the century?

Supply and demand!
What a wonderful treat it would be to see it again firmly seated in the saddle!

Go To Work.

Many people are of the opinion that now that the new administration is in office and its views are fairly well known, there should be no further delay in the revival of business throughout the country.

Every change of administration brings its period of doubt and uncertainty. The moneyed interests do not know just how far it is safe to go, hence they set the brakes and mark time by a temporary curtailment of expenditures. This produces a natural slump in business that is designated by some as hard times.

Mr. Harding has indicated that he desires a conservative but, progressive administration, free from entangling foreign alliances, and with the protection that should be afforded legitimate business interests in every section of the country.

It is time for big business to get down to the steady grind again, and for little business to hit the same pace.

Everybody go to work at something!

When Peace Comes.

Is universal peace to come out of the great war? It is not. Even as a dream it is fading away.

Governmental greed in Europe is the rock upon which it was wrecked. International hatred and distrust will keep it submerged.

On the surface diplomacy maintains a fiction of unity, but underneath the fires of imperialistic passion are raging unchecked.

Dreams come and dreams go, but peace for this world will come when we are all gods, and not men.

Lancaster School Notes

"Why Go To College?"

There are many excellent reasons students at some time in their lives should go away from home to school. Here are some of them: The opportunity to meet new people and make a wide circle of friends. To widen one's horizon by coming in contact with a new world. It cures greenness and renders one more at ease; it breaks down narrowness and prejudice. It makes for tolerance; cures home sickness; and gives one a broader out-look on life.

The students who stay at home all the time read the same books, study the same lessons, see the same faces, think the same thoughts, sing the same songs, play the same games and walk in the same paths that other generations have trodden. All this makes for narrowness and intolerance.

Young boy, young girl, make your plans to get out into the world, if only for a little while. It will do you good as long as you live.

Baseball Team Now Fully Organized.

On last Tuesday afternoon a meeting of the baseball team was held. Eugene Cochran was elected captain, John McRoberts, Manager, Samuel Elliott, assistant manager. The team this year looks promising, both to rookies and veterans alike. With some hot weather, hard practice and a little experience the nine will be ready to battle for supremacy with all comers.

"It ain't the individual, Nor the army as a whole.

But the everlasting team work Of every bloomin' soul."

The Senior Class ordered their invitations this week through the Central Record, also choosing their class colors and class motto. They organized last September and elected class officers. Clyde Holtzclaw was elected president and Ruby Gastineau, secretary and treasurer. Their class rings arrived about a month ago. They now have nothing to worry about except the arrival of the invitations which are supposed to be here in May.

Out of respect to the memory of Mr. Ben Hudson and in token of appreciation of his earnest efforts and interest in Lancaster Graded School at the time when it was organized, the school work was suspended at noon, Friday and not resumed until Monday A. M.

Mr. Hudson was a charter member of this school board from 1895 to 1902 and fought hard for the establishment of the graded school.

Resolutions.

The Elders and Deacons of the Lancaster Christian Church in their meeting on Sunday afternoon, March 13, 1921, passed the following resolutions:

The sudden and unexpected death of our Brother H. E. Hudson has brought keen sorrow and a sense of heavy loss to all the members of our congregation. He was our oldest and most prominent elder and had been Chairman of our Board of officers for many years. He was faithful in attendance at all our services and a teacher of men in our Sunday school. He was loyal to God's teaching as revealed through Jesus Christ, devoted to the interests of the Brotherhood and our congregation, generous in sustaining our local and world-wide activities, and a man whose counsel was always wise. His prominence as a citizen, his proflity as a man and his genuineness as a Christian were such that ours is a loss almost irreparable. Still we are not utterly cast down—feel that we could not be if we have proper regard for his example and wishes. Memory of his personality will be a benediction through the years to come and his loyalty will be an unfading incentive to greater zeal and consecration.

We therefore resolve:
I. That we each and all will renew our allegiance and give ourselves to the service of God and the extension of Christ's Kingdom with more earnestness and fidelity; that hereby something of the loss suffered through the death of Brother Hudson may be overcome in the increased good which we may be able to do.

II. That we increase our loyalty to our own congregation and all its interests and push on with renewed energy in the work we have to do.

III. That we extend to his widow, his children, his grandchildren and other kinspeople our most sincere sympathy; and we pray that God may comfort, sustain and hearten every one of them.

IV. That we include in the minutes of this meeting these resolutions, send a copy of the same to the bereaved family and have another copy printed in the Central Record.

Board of Elders and Deacons,
J. W. Elmore,
E. B. Hourland,
Committee.

RAT DAY PROCLAMATION.

Five Cents For Every Rat, Dead or Alive.

Whereas since the RAT is the most useless and destructive rodent, destroying over two hundred million dollars worth of property annually in the United States, and since the only means of saving this waste, is by exterminating the rats;

Therefore, I, John M. Duncan, Mayor of the City of Lancaster, do hereby proclaim: Saturday, March 26th, 1921, as RAT DAY, when the citizens are requested to catch, kill, or poison as many rats as possible. The Civic Department of the Woman's Club agrees to pay five cents per head for every rat, dead or alive, delivered to James A. Bratton, City Marshal, on Saturday afternoon, March 26th, 1921.

This March 17th, 1921.

Miss Sue Williams has returned from a delightful vacation trip of one week with her parents at Hick, Kentucky.

Mrs. L. J. Peyton and little son, Billie Rivers, were the week-end guests of her sister, Mrs. Charlie Hughes, of Bourne.

Miss Lucy Long, of Sharpshurg, who is visiting friends in Richmond, spent the week-end with her brother, Rev. C. D. Strother and Mrs. Strother.

Post cards to her friends, from Miss Lilly Grant, tell of a day in Washington for the inauguration with Dr. Grant and of a brief visit to Mr. Lucien Grant at Annapolis before their return to Norfolk, Va.

Mr. H. V. Bastin returned to Frankfort Monday and was sworn in Tuesday morning. A very pleasant surprise was awaiting him in the form of a handsome box of roses, with attached card containing names of forty of his home town friends.

Mrs. John Scott gave a most enjoyable bridge party Wednesday afternoon at her home on Richmond avenue in honor of her sister, Mrs. Herbert Ellis, of North Carolina, who is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Kavanaugh. The home was beautifully decorated in St. Patrick emblems and the color scheme of green was carried out in the two course menu. Those present for the charming affair were Mrs. J. E. Stormes, Mrs. G. C. Greer, Mrs. Herbert Ellis, Miss Joann Mount, Mrs. Robert Kinnaird, Miss Winifred West, Miss Martha Gill, Miss Helen Gill, Mrs. J. E. Elmore and Mrs. W. B. Hurton.

MADISON COUNTY

Profits By Standardized Flocks.

Madison county farmers are profiting by the poultry standardization campaign being conducted by the Kentucky State College of Agriculture according to reports coming from the Berea Rhode Island Red Association which is taking an active part in the campaign. Farmers in the county who are raising the standard breed which is Rhode Island Red have already sent 200 hens to Camp Knox, have sold more than 1,000 eggs to different hatcheries and are filling orders for hatching eggs to go to South Carolina and Texas. It has been estimated that approximately 70,000 hatching eggs will be sold out of the county during the coming season, the majority of them going to the Eastern section of the state to further the standardization work in the mountain counties. Farmers in the county are selling out breeds of poultry which they have had for several years in order to buy Rhode Island Reds, according to the association.

As a part of the campaign being conducted in that county the annual meeting at which time poultry ciation recently held its semi-annual specialists from the State College of Agriculture together with local workers took part in the banquet held in the director's room of a local bank. Mrs. Luther Todd is president and Mrs. L. J. Green, secretary of the association. Members of the organization are planning to purchase Rhode Island Red stock from large eastern breeders and make exhibits at the Kentucky State Fair this fall.

Here's Help

MANY bed-ridden sufferers from backache and rheumatic pains owe their condition to the fact that they neglected the first warning of kidney trouble. Prompt action at the first sign of disordered kidneys will prevent much suffering. Keep the blood stream pure by keeping the kidneys healthy and the poisonous waste matter that causes pain and misery will be eliminated from the system.

Foley Kidney Pills

have brought relief to thousands of suffering men and women who were afflicted with backache, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, sore muscles, dizziness, puffiness under eyes, floating specks, biliousness, bladder weakness, loss of appetite or other symptoms of kidney trouble.

Mrs. Sam C. Small, Clayton, N. M., writes: "In January I was taken bad with my kidneys and bladder. I had been in bed two months, but kept getting worse. Then I got so bad some third had to be done. We noticed an advertisement in the Clayton News for Foley Kidney Pills and we sent for some. They have done me more good than all the medicine I have taken. I am better than I have been for years."

Uncle Walt's Story

THE MODEL GUEST

"MY COUSIN James is coming to spend a week," announced the landlady, "and I can't say I'm overjoyed. He's the most unsatisfactory visitor I ever saw. You can hardly get a word out of him. He isn't a bit like his brother Jeremiah, who is full of fun, and the best company imaginable."

"Your remarks show how little true greatness is appreciated in a moral family boarding house, where the damages are collected in advance," observed the star boarder. "In my opinion, James is the model visitor. If I had my own household, with a charming bride to pour the imitation coffee, and a vine and fig tree in a jardiniere, I'd send a special delivery letter to James, asking him to come and stay for ten years or more."

"There's something restful and something about that gifted man. He never bothers anybody. No one has to waste precious moments entertaining him. It isn't necessary to discuss the weather predictions, or dig up a lot of statistics about the crops. In order to make James have a good time, you don't have to show him the old plush photograph album, and describe the ancestry of the melancholy utilities whose pictures appear therein. Nearly all visitors are bores, my dear Mrs. Jiggers, because they have to be entertained. Somebody has to sit up with them and thrash out last year's gossip. They have no initiative or refinement. They have no resources of their own. In order to have a pleasant visit, they need help."

"Your cousin James is a man, after my own heart. I remember his last visit quite well. He came in the evening, and after supper he took a chair on the porch. Knowing he was a guest, I felt it my duty to entertain him in the conventional way. I dragged my chair close up to his and remarked that it was a pleasant evening, but the presence of a cloud bank in the northwest almost convinced me that there would be rain within twelve hours. In which case, I proceeded, there would be much jubilation among the honest old farmers, whose crops were suffering for moisture."

"James listened to my remarks and then looked at me, in a sad, reproachful way, as though he thought it a shameful thing that imbeciles should be at large, and then he took his chair to the opposite end of the porch without having said a word. I must confess that I felt like a counterfeit kopeck for a few minutes, but the more I considered the matter, the more I admired and respected that remarkable man."

"He used to go downtown every morning and buy a paper backed novel, or a fiction magazine, and then he'd read it all day, and when he was done with his literature he left it where the boarders could get it. I didn't hear him say ten words during his visit, yet you say, Mrs. Jiggers, that he is an unsatisfactory guest. Elderly landladies, whose intellects have been warped by long years of parsimony, are hard to please."

"Jeremiah, whom you describe as jolly and agreeable, should be suppressed. He has collected all the old chessy stories ever manufactured, and insists upon telling them. He has a horrible habit of making puns, and considers himself a humorist, because of it. You couldn't bribe him to sit down with a book or magazine and behave himself. He has to be entertained every minute of his time, and the only way you can entertain him is by letting him do the entertaining."

"He is a genial old freak who thinks he is a privileged character, and everybody's pet. The last time he was here he went into my sumptuous apartment and used my razor to shave the southeast quarter section of his countenance. His whiskers are full of barbed wire, and the razor was ruined. When I spoke to him about it he thought it funny. Yet you refer to such a man as an agreeable visitor. I blush for you, Mrs. Jiggers."

In Moderation.
"Would you advise a candidate to stay on his front porch?"
"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum; "but only part of the time; just long enough to take care of his voice and get together a good bunch of speeches for delivery on tour."

Just It.
"I thought you said you had a fine ending to your automobile trip." "So I had." "Your chauffeur told me you were arrested for speeding." "Well, wouldn't you call a windup in the police court a fine ending?"

The watch of Charles V, which was one of the earliest of these time-pieces, weighed twenty-seven pounds. It was a good deal like a clock of the present day.

TRACTOR

Overhauled Now Will Save Trouble Later.

Farmers can save themselves much time and trouble, later in the season by getting their tractors ready for use before the rush of spring work starts according to J. H. Kelley, head of the farm engineering section of the Kentucky State College of Agriculture.

All old dirt, grease and oil should be removed from the motor, out of the grease cups, bearings and crank and transmission cases and the latter washed out with kerosene. Care must be taken to see that all kerosene is drained out after the washing. After the crank case has been cleaned it should be refilled with oil again care being taken to see that all bearing surfaces are well-covered with it. While the crank case is open the connecting rod bearings should be examined and if necessary adjusted.

Care should be taken to see that all oiling devices on the tractor are properly filled after they have been cleaned since lubrication is one of the most essential factors in tractor operation and when done improperly may cause the bearings to burn out and lead to a heavy repair bill.

Examination of the valves is an important detail in getting the tractor ready for use. In many cases these will need grinding especially if left unseated since they will have rusted through the winter. The exhaust valve is usually the chief source of trouble. The different valves may be tested to see if they are leaking by turning the motor over by hand and noting the compression in the various cylinders. A valve is closed and properly seated if it is impossible to twist the stem.

In examining the ignition system be sure the tall spark plugs are clean and that the points of the plug are the proper distance apart. In the magneto ignition this distance should be one sixteenth of an inch to the thickness of a worn dime. All wires in the ignition system should be tight and the contract points clean. Excessive oil and dirt in the magneto will cause a short circuit. It is best to use from 2 to 4 drops of light typewriter oil every 20 hours of operation.

"Mr. Kelley has suggested that tractor owners study the instruction book in order to get more particular details concerning their own make of machines. If the farmer does not have one of these books the company from which he bought his tractor will be glad to furnish one as well as information in regard to repairs on any particular part."

Profitable Hog Raising Requires Spring Pasture.

In order to practice the most profitable system of feeding hogs it is necessary to have some early spring pasture on which to turn the animals while they are being fed grain, according to Prof. E. S. Good, head of the animal husbandry department of the Kentucky State College of Agriculture. The best early spring pasture is rye sown the fall before but if farmers do not have this the first pasture to sow in the spring is Dwarf Essex Rape at the rate of eight pounds to the acre. This can be sown as early in the spring as the ground can be plowed.

The field on which the rape is to be sown should be put in good condition in order to secure success with the crop. Some farmers prefer a mixture of rape and oats sown at the rate of two bushels of oats and four pounds of rape to the acre. This mixture can also be sown as soon as the ground is ready to plow. These pastures can be followed later on with other such as clover, alfalfa and Sudan grass for July and August, according to Prof. Good.

RESOLUTIONS

On The Death Of Benjamin Franklin Hudson.

Lancaster, Ky., March 11th, 1921.

It is with the deepest sorrow that this Board of Directors of the Citizens National Bank of Lancaster, Ky., is called upon to record the death of Benjamin Franklin Hudson, who helped to organize this bank in 1883 and who has since that time so faithfully and efficiently served it as director, cashier and president. He had served as director since its organization, and as cashier for twenty-six years, and as president for ten years; therefore,

He is resolved: That we honor his memory in death as we trusted him in life. In his earthly departure this bank has suffered a grievous and irreparable loss. His high integrity, his great industry, his large experience, his public spirit, his unflinching courage, his flawless habits, his untarnished honesty, his absolute fidelity to duty, his rare courage and combination of other good qualities, have stamped him as a shining example of the Christian gentleman, and has brought reputation and imperishable influence to this bank and community, where he was admitted and held in affectionate esteem by all. That his wonderfully efficient leadership for the Liberty Loan drives during the terrible World War be held in sacred memory. That these resolutions be spread on the records of this bank and published in the Central Record, and a copy be given his devoted family to whom we tender our most sincere and heartfelt condolence, and point them to Him, whom he so cheerfully followed.

STYLISH AND PRACTICAL

In measuring the most valuable attributes of any garment, feminine judgment is apt to think at least as highly of style as of utility. If one or the other must be sacrificed—it is not style, and it is a happy circumstance when both are found artfully combined. This is the case with the handsome utility coat shown in the picture. It is long and full, with dolman sleeves and deep yoke that suggests a cape. The collar is ample and may be buttoned up about the throat. The material is a soft but loosely woven pile fabric, light in weight, but cozy, and style of this coat places it in the distinguished class where there are few that are so practical.

FASHION'S TREND IN SUITS

The procession of suits for spring shows the trend of fashion in four directions with many versions of the latest in the lead. Then come the straightline, bloused and sashed models, like that shown in the picture, followed by others. Styles are determined by coats and skirts are plain. This suit has reduced its lines and trimmings to the last degree of simplicity and has, therefore, a new smartness of its own. The sash of wide black satin ribbon, however, is gathered in at the ends and finished with very handsome silk tassels. These bloused and sashed suits are youthful looking and have a chic simplicity approved with much fervor just now.

SIZE OF MOTORTRUCK IS QUITE IMPORTANT

Study of Vehicles is Profitable to Purchasers

Four-Ton Truck is Especially Adapted to the Transportation of Boxed, Crated or Barrel Goods—Also is Economical.

Moving goods by motortruck is getting down to a more exact basis every day. One of the vital factors in the profitable transportation of merchandise over American highways is the size of the truck itself. The truck must fit the job or line of business. To most the situation the manufacturers are building many sizes of trucks, from a half-ton to ten-ton capacity.

One of the units now in great demand is the four-ton truck, which is being widely used in many lines of business.

The four-ton truck is especially adapted to stake body work; that is the carrying of boxed, crated or barrel goods. Not only is it a prompt and reliable carrier for this class of freight, but it also is economical.

Compared with horses, it is far superior in every way, both as to mileage ability and cost of upkeep and operation.

In times such as these the truck purchaser should study his situation most carefully and employ expert advice whenever possible. Many a man who buys a five-ton truck should really operate a four, and the same with many buyers of three-ton vehicles. A close study of delivery problems will prove to many a business man that he ought to be operating a truck of different size than that which he is using. Get the truck to fit the job.

Wholesale Joy in Labor.

The joy that comes to us in the knowledge that we can labor, that we can fill a niche in this busy world, is enough to compensate us for the effort. On our ability to labor depends our existence, contentment and happiness.

Paint Screens With Sponges.

Wire screens can be painted more easily and with better results than by the ordinary method of painting with a brush. If the paint is thinned and applied to the screen with an old sponge.—Edward H. Zelle in Popular Mechanics.

Made Levy of Goose Feathers.

Six feathers from the wings of every goose in their country, was the war levy King Henry V made upon the lord lieutenants of English counties when about to make war upon France in 1417. The feathers were needed for the arrows of the archers, the infantrymen of the day.

Literature Immortal.

Books are the metempsychosis, the symbol and presence of immortality. The dead are scattered, and none shall and them; but behold they are here. H. W. Beecher

Some Very Old Trees.

Yew trees grow to a great age. Those at Fontenay's abbey, Yorkshire, England, were old in 1172. California has trees thousands of years old in the Mariposa grove, and baobab trees in Africa are over four centuries old.

Perforation of Postage Stamps.

Forty-six perforations are made around the edge of every postage stamp. It is estimated that about 500,000,000 holes are punched every day. This means a similar number of bits of paper. They are collected, repulped and remade into sheets of paper. These are regarded so valuable by the postal authorities that barrels full of them are sold every day.

GIVE PRODUCE BETTER CARE

More Attention Should Be Given to Quality and Methods of Packing and Shipping.

With the present condition of heavy production of almost every farm commodity and high freight rates, the bureau of markets of the United States Department of Agriculture advises that greater care than ever should be exercised as to the quality of produce shipped by rail to markets and the method of packing and loading. Where fruit or vegetables are of inferior grade or quality in any respect, the farmer will do well to market nearby, within the truck radius, or store for home consumption.

After the stock gets to a distant market the shipper is given protection by the inspection service furnished by the department at about 180 principal receiving points of the United States. This service costs $2.50 for a half carload or less and $4 for a full carload. It enables the shipper to learn the exact condition in which his produce reached the consumer by giving the exact nature of the decay or other defects, and gives him information in regard to the best method of marketing each particular lot of produce.

SILo WILL HOLD MOST FOOD

Keeps Various Crops in Best Form for Different Animals Till Needed Later On.

More food can be stored in a given space in a silo than in any other building, making it a cheap storage. The silo also makes possible growing the crop till it has produced the greatest amount of food per acre, and keeping this food in the best form for the animals till it is needed. Silage is like having pasture for the live stock the year around. The silage is nutritious and has a good effect on the digestion. It will mean a big milk production and good growth of the animal to which it is fed.

FEED PUREBRED STOCK

Five dollars' worth of iron made into horseshoes sells for $10 but made into hair springs for watches sells for more than a million dollars. Moral: Make raw materials count—feed good stock.

The Third Heaven.
According to an ancient Jewish opinion there were three heavens: (1) that wherein the birds fly, (2) that wherein the stars move, (3) that where the Highest and His angels live. In 11 Cor. Inthians St. Paul's reference is to the heaven of heavens, the place of God's ruling over angels and all powers, as distinct from Paradise where the souls of the faithful dwell abide, to which St. Paul's reference is, also, as he says in the same passage.

How Many Colors for a Section?
Not long ago a train started out of Grand Central in two sections. After running a few miles the first section lost time, and the second, running ahead, was ordered to put up green signals and run as first section. As this train approached the signalman if the engine had put up signals. The signalman replied, by telephone, "Yes, he just put up the green and blew."—New York Central Magazine.

GOOD BLOOD NEEDED IN SPRINGTIME

People With Poor Appetite, Bad Complexions, "Spring Fever", Need A Blood Tonic.

GUDE'S PEPTO-MANGAN IS THE BEST.

Makes Rich Red Blood—Renews Vitality And Increases Body's Resistance To Disease.

Spring is the time when blood is so vital to health. If you do not feel the thrill of Spring in your blood and if you take no pleasure in living, your complexion pallid or muddy and you tire easily, you can be pretty sure your blood is not up to the mark. So many feel that way in the Spring. Especially housewives who have so much work to do. They get over-tired and run down—their blood becomes weak and thin.

Build up your blood now by taking that splendid Spring blood tonic, Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It will give vital power to the red corpuscles in your blood. They will go racing through your blood, carrying fresh supplies of oxygen to all the tiny cells. It will help improve your color and your appetite. You'll take more interest in things and enjoy life more. You will stop going around with that tired, all-gone feeling.

Physicians have prescribed Gude's Pepto-Mangan for thirty years. You can get it at any druggist's in either tablet or liquid form. Take whichever you prefer. They have the same medicinal value. Get the genuine. (Advertisement.)

Clothing Problems Are Best Solved In Spring.

This is a good time of the year for the homemaker to get out all clothing that has been packed away and inspect and sort it preparatory to making plans for the wardrobe of each member of the family, according to Miss Maybelle Cornell, head of the home economics department of the Kentucky State College of Agriculture. A card catalog has been found to be a help in this work.

Each member of the family should have his pile of clothing, a decision should be made as to whether he can wear his last year's garment, whether it must be passed on to another smaller individual or discarded entirely. Notes should be kept on the cards as to the amount of repairs needed and the making over for each garment. After the old garments have been gone over, plans for the new ones may be made. The clothing budget should be divided among members of the family group in accordance with their needs. Then and only then shopping trips should be planned and if well planned and executed one trip will often suffice for the purchase of materials to be made up into garments, according to Miss Cornell.

If the woman wishes to do the sewing herself it should be arranged that the household will not be disorganized because of it. This is one time when the canned goods may be used to give the family the proper diet and save the housewife time for the problem of clothing the family. If she is going to have someone assist her with the work much time and money may be saved by being on hand to assist with the daily work.

When the homemaker makes the clothing for the family as much a business proposition as does the man replenishing the stock in his store the family will be clothed more comfortably for less money and the women will have more leisure to enjoy her family, Miss Cornell said.

OHIO COUNTY YOUNGSTERS Form Dairy Calf Club.

Boys and girls of Ohio county who are interested in dairying have organized themselves into a calf club and are planning to purchase purebred dairy heifers which they will use as foundation stock for herds of their own, is a report of E. M. Prewitt of the dairy department of the Kentucky State College of Agriculture. A local bank has agreed to finance the youngsters in purchasing animals which they will raise. The club now has eight members, but the membership is expected to be raised to 20 in the near future, according to Mr. Prewitt.

Club Campaigns Will Get Trip To Chicago.

Free trips to the 1921 Chicago International Livestock Exposition will be provided for the club champion in dairy calf and poultry growing through the cooperation of a Chicago packing house according to an announcement which has just been made by C. W. Buckler of the Kentucky State College of Agriculture and state leader of junior club work.

The winners will be selected by Mr. Buckler and three members of the state college staff, who will pass on the records of the club boys and girls of the state for the year. Announcement of the winners of the trip will be made about three weeks before it is to be made. The only requirements are that the youngsters taking the trip prepare a brief story of their experiences while at the exposition.

While at the show the champion will have a week's tour consisting of one day and evening at the stock show, trips through various packing plants, the financial district, parks, museums, department stores, industrial works and moving picture shows.

Any Kentucky boy or girl can enter this contest by getting in touch with Mr. Buckler, the county club leader, county farm or home demonstration agent.

Tell Him If You Like It.

"Don't make fun of your local paper."
"Give the editor news, whether it benefits you or not."
"Don't ask him to print it on the front page and just the exact way you handed it in."
"Don't worry lest the editor make too much money. If he's prosperous, he'll be foolish enough to give his community a better paper; that's an editor's ambition—that's why he engages in the publicity business."
"Tell him when he has a good paper. You are willing to congratulate your preacher on a good sermon, and your merchant on an attractive window display. The editor is no less grateful for a word of praise."

Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered, occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. For a long time I tried pills, which gripped and didn't give the good results. Black-Draught liver medicine is easy to take, easy to keep, inexpensive."

OFFICE SEEKERS

BESIEGE G. O. P.

Members Of Congress
May Urge Harding
To Keep Lid On Postoffices.

Washington. — Republican members of Congress are visibly worried over the surge of applications for Federal offices, especially postmasterhips. They have not agreed whether it would be better to knock the top out of the old pork barrel, to open it just a little bit, or to keep it tightly sealed and let merit be the test by which the postoffices shall be manned.

Since Representative Simeon D. Fess, Ohio, sent out his questionnaire to take a straw vote on Congressional opinion many members have expressed their opinions and, although Mr. Fess has received only a portion of the replies, they indicate that there is a wide diversity of opinion.

Veteran members privately favor the continuance of the executive order of former President Woodrow Wilson placing the first, second and third class offices virtually under the civil service. They realize that patronage is more than a liability than an asset in filling one appointment they perhaps create several bitter enemies.

New Members Want Lid Off.

New members, however, and they are numerous, wish to see the order revoked so that they can begin immediately to cut into the pork to repay those who are responsible for their coming to Washington.

From quarters close to the White House, as well as from the general trend of the replies sent Mr. Fess, it appears almost certain that President Warren G. Harding will not revoke the executive order but that he will modify it in such a way that, while civil service examinations still will be held for applicants, Congressmen, or at least Republican Congressmen, will have a voice in deciding who is to be selected for nomination by the President.

This would be accompanied by modifying the order to require the civil service department to certify the names of the three applicants having the highest average instead of the name of the one person obtaining the highest rating.

These three names would be submitted to the Congressman in whose district the office is located and he would indicate his choice. Out of the three chances the Congressman in all probability could select one of his political faith.

Origin of Word "Doll" Obscure.
The origin of the word "doll" is obscure, but the common explanation frequently given that the word is an abbreviation of "idol" or "idol." is said by the best authorities to be certainly wrong. It is thought probable that the word is derived from Doll or Dolly, diminutives of the woman's name, "Dorothy," which in Greek signifies the gift of God; hence the idea of a gift to a child for a plaything.

LIQUID POISON

So Strong That Three Drops Will Kill At Touch Is Discovered By Chemical Warfare Service.

New York. — The Chemical Warfare Service has discovered a liquid poison so strong that three drops will kill any one whose skin it touches. It became known there recently.

Falling like rain from nozzles attached to airplanes the liquid would kill everything in the aircraft's path, according to a high official of the service.

A description of what the new war weapon would do, in the opinion of this official, follows:

One plane carrying two tons of the liquid could cover an area 100 feet wide by seven miles long in one trip and could deposit enough material to kill every man in that area, and if those on the ground were not protected by gas mask the area of fatality would be many times greater.

"The only limit to the quantity of this liquid which could be made is the amount of available electric power as nearly every action has practically an unlimited supply of the necessary raw materials."

"It would be entirely possible for this country to manufacture several good tons per day if the necessary plants had been built."

During the Argonne offensive the entire first American army of the 1,250,000 men occupied an area approximately 40 kilometers long by 20 kilometers wide. If Germany had had 1,000 tons of these materials and 100 planes equipped for its distribution, the entire first army would have been annihilated in twelve hours.

"The chemical warfare service is developing protective clothing to entirely cover the wearer and make him impervious to the deadly liquid."
